in his store and the result is very satisfactory. By the use of this lamp the store is made brighter than day light. Several other merchants have since their intention of using the same kind of lamps.

We are now offering buggies, pha-tons, surreys, road wagons and harness, cheaper than any one in Central Kentucky, in order to make room for our large stock of spring vehicles. No trouble to show goods. Come in Monday.

W. J. ROMANS Carriage Co.

Please Report It.

If subscribers fail to receive THE RECORD, they will do us a great favor to report the fact. Once Sam pay might good money for delivering his mails, and if you fail to get your paper we will see that the fact is promptly reported to the proper authorities at Washington.

Put 'Em Up.

The gasoline lamps have never been put up between the Square and the depot, and as a result the people coming in on the night trains have to wade through the mud and compliment the Council. These lights are needed badly and we hope the city dads will get a move on them and see that they are put up.

Will Preach Every Sunday.

Dr. J. Lapsley McKee announced Sunday morning that he would preach here every Sunday during the winter. This will be gratifying news to the many admirers of Dr. McKee. He has always been a great favorite in Lancaster, and the people, irrespective of denominations, are always glad of an opportunity of hearing him.

The Bible Society.

The Garrard County Bible Society will meet in the Christian church in Lancaster next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. All the ministers in the county are vice-presidents of this society, and the church members are especially invited to be present at this meeting. It is hoped a large audience will be on hand promptly.

Prayer Meeting Night Changed.

In order that Dr. McKee may be present, the Presbyterian prayer meeting night has been changed from Wednesday to Monday night. This does not conflict with the meeting of any other church and many people will doubtless attend these Monday night services to hear the doctor's talk.

Big Court.

Circuit court begins next Monday with the smallest docket in many years. A lawyer, looking over the books yesterday, told THE RECORD that if all the fees earned at this court were paid to one man he would not be able to stop a cracker wagon. There are thirty-five equity appearances and about fifty-five little, one horse commonwealth cases to be disposed of. One hundred and fifteen old common law cases complete the list.

Tomorrow the Day.

Remember, on tomorrow, Saturday, Nov. 26, we will give away the Large Store. All having guesses on same are invited to be present. Also remember our stock of Fall and Winter Goods is complete. We call especial attention to our line Ladies' Jackets and Wraps and Men's Overcoats. No old, "left-over" stock, but all new and up-to-date and prices are WAY DOWN. Come and see. R. L. JENNINGS & Co. Paint Lick, Ky.

Brans and Shipstuffs.
I have on hands a fine lot of bran and shipstuffs. Will deliver at $10 and $12 per ton. Buy now while it is cheap. JOHN H. POTTS, Gilberts Creek, Ky. nov-25

Thanksgiving Services.

Thanksgiving services will be held in the Presbyterian church today beginning at 11 o'clock. Dr. McKee kindly consented to remain and preach, and a large congregation is anticipated, and doubtless will be out to hear him.

Garrard Dog Wins.

A special from Downing Green, the judges at the National Fox Hunting Assoc. took, now in session, there awarded first prize to Walker's dog, "Top". Mr. Walker has the best pack of hounds in the state and always gets a prize at these meetings.

Beautiful Room.

The Masons have had a beautiful carpet placed on their hall, and it, together with the pretty paper and electric lights, makes the handsomest lodge room we ever entered. The day they meet there now and all the brethren should go to the lodge and see how nice and comfortable it is. This will break up the dancing now, and the boys are without a place in which to romp the light fantastic.

Stores Close Thursday.

A number of merchants decided to give their clerks a well-earned breathing spell on Thanksgiving day, and will close up at the usual hour, 10 o'clock, to attend preaching. Instead of opening after dinner the merchants and clerks will remain at their own fireside, thank an Alwise employer that business has been good this fall, and let their turkey digest. This is a splendid idea. Nearly all the merchants will do this, too, some could keep open on Sunday if the law didn't prohibit it.

Brother Gowen to Resign.

At the regular service at the Christian church Sunday morning, Ed. Gowen announced that at the expiration of his year (February we believe), he would sever his connection as pastor of the church. He also added that he might leave sooner, if he completed other arrangements. Mr. Gowen has been in Lancaster for a number of years and has many warm friends. This is a splendid preacher and one who does not hesitate to say what he thinks is a question. The church has no yet considered the name of another minister, but will make a selection as Mr. Gowen leaves. Mr. Gowen has been a mighty good friend to THE RECORD, and we wish him all good in the new location he selects.

Still Climbing.

The list of subscriptions toward building the opera house and hotel is still swelling, and the required amount will soon be raised. Nearly every man in shape to do so has taken stock and only a small amount remains to be secured. The enterprising men of the town are working with a vim, but as usual, a few sorry, space-occupiers are throwing cold water on the plan. The "gas" of a few objectors has its weight, but we confidently believe that this plan to build will be carried to completion. Nine-tenths of our people are for progress, and the thing for them to do is to freeze out the old funeral processions who take no interest in the town's welfare and only look out for their own selfish carcasses. To use slang expressions, always extend the "Glad hand" to enterprising men and give the selfish draw-back the "Marble heart."

Preacher in Jail.

Andy Britton, a negro preacher from Lexington, came to Lower Garrard last summer and said he proposed to induce the colored population of that vicinity to turn from the error of their way. He held a "Big Meeting" and was getting quite a wide swath. One night a colored man went to the store of Mr. Jno. C. Huston in that locality and made a small purchase. While the merchant was in the rear of the store, the man smashed a show case, grabbed a sack containing some money, and ran away. Mr. Huston recognized Britton as the man and the grand jury returned an indictment. Britton was not captured until last week, when he was brought before Judge Burnside. The court concluded it would be better for the cause of religion to keep Britton out of the ministerial field and sent him to jail for three months.

Will Have to Wait.

The Knights of Pythias are anxious to take stock in the proposed new hotel building, but they have a little snit on hand just now, the result of which will have to be awaited before they make the investment. As stated in THE RECORD some time since, the Knights bought the lot on Lexington street owned by the West heirs. Since the trade the question of validity of the title has been raised and the lodge believes that, owing to interests of infant heirs, and the wording of a will, the title can not hold. Mr. West, on the other hand, claims the title to be absolutely sound and has brought suit in the circuit court to settle the matter. The case will be decided by Judge Saussey next week, and if the title is not all right the Knights will invest in the new building. The plans are drawn for a lodge room and it can be built and not interfere in the least with the hotel or opera house space.

Saves The Two Cents.

The Lancaster banks have had THE RECORD office print each 5,000 blank receipts to be used in saving their customers the two cent revenue stamp. Most of the banks over the country have done away with the regular checks and have substituted receipts for them. These receipts are printed in blank forms, leaving only the amount of money the patron desires to draw to fill out. They read like any other receipt, and when filled out and properly signed, the man who presents it at the cashier's window can draw money, provided he has money in the bank. The idea that receipts could be substituted for checks was given the local bankers in a ruling by the Commissioners of Internal Revenue in answer to a question from a banker in North Carolina. Nearly every bank in the state has adopted the plan.

Will Be Married Today.

Mr. Charles Frisbie and Miss Mary Miller will be married in Louisville this, Wednesday, afternoon at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Robert E. Hughes. While this announcement will be a surprise to many, yet the more intimate friends of the contracting parties have been aware of the approaching nuptials for several weeks. Miss Miller left for the Falls City last Saturday, accompanied by her friend, Miss May Hughes. Mr. Frisbie followed Sunday night and was accompanied by Messrs. Letcher Owsley and Herbert Price. The ceremony will be performed this afternoon and the newly wedded pair will leave immediately for Omaha, Nebraska, where Mr. Frisbie expects to engage in business. The bride is the second daughter of Col. John W. Miller, of this city. She is a young lady of extraordinary intellect, her charming manners, and is industrious and pretty. By her friendly, affectionate manners, and desire to be agreeable, she made herself a great favorite in Lancaster society. The groom is the oldest son of Mrs. Mattie Frisbie, of this city. He is a young man of good sense and education and has fine business qualifications. He has been a leader in Lancaster society and numbers his friends by the score. He is pretty well fixed with this world's goods and starts out with flattering prospects. Both bride and groom are splendid friends of THE RECORD and we devoutly wish them a voyage through life wholly clear of the stumbling blocks which line its pathway.

Christmas Greeting.

To every reader of this, we extend a cordial and earnest greeting with the utmost enthusiasm and satisfaction. We are enthusiastic for the reason that the prospects of the season are particularly promising for both buyer and seller, we are satisfied, because, anticipating an unusually large demand for holiday goods, we have put in place a stock so complete, so meritorious, so perfect, that we know we can please the purchasing public, and are equally positive that they will be pleased with themselves for dealing with us.

Our stock is most attractive, and embraces the latest novelties, the best of goods of the reliable kind. The assortment is one calculated to meet taste, means and preferences of every individual likely to enter our store. If standard merit and extensive variety go for anything, they will score no record for the present season that will see all our old customers better satisfied than ever before, and new ones put on the list as friends of an establishment that believes in dealing honorably and liberally with its patrons. We are determined to make a notable feature of the gift-giving, holiday-shopping period, and are prepared to serve all who come promptly, politely and satisfactorily. If hearty-warming goods at home-cheering prices have any influence on our customers, their dealings with us this season will be eminently pleasant. Every article we show is the best of its class, every class represented is varied and complete. You have only to inquire for what you need, to have presented what you want, fresh from the best and latest markets, and possessing the right kind of value for the right kind of price in every instance. That question of price will be another loadstone to attract trade. We have two settled principles strongly in view—to give full and exact value for every dollar spent with us, and to help you make that dollar go as far as it should, and much farther than anywhere else. Experience and care have enabled us to buy our superb stock at the closest possible figures, and a brisk demand for the same affords us an opportunity to turn our money quickly. We are therefore, more inclined than ever to shade profits to a point that will make this store the prominent and popular one with every person who appreciates trustworthy goods when seen, and reasonable prices when backed up by solid, tangible value of the practical kind.

One more word—we invite you to visit our store, and we intend to make you welcome. If you do not come to buy, you are still expected and wanted. Courteous treatment will convince you that we are here to please; a sight of our admirable assortment of goods will educate you up to a knowledge of what is novel, appropriate and first-class. We make our bow to our customers with the conviction that we shall suit one and all. We thank you for past patronage, and we show our practical appreciation of the same by presenting our best stock and our best prices at this, the best of all best occasions—the Holiday Season of 1898.

The United States Peace Commission has made their final proposition to the Spanish commissioners Monday and requested a final answer on or before next Monday, November 25, on all points now in issue between the commissioners. The United States states that the Philippines are to be returned to the United States, and the entire Philippine archipelago, and offers $20,000,000 for the cession of the islands. The Courier Journal special says the Spanish commissioners gave no intimation of their attitude in view of the renewed demand, but at their request the joint session adjourned until Wednesday. The American commission refused arbitration on the rule of the protocol bearing on the Philippines, and declared the purpose of the United States to maintain the Philippines as an "open door" to the world's commerce.

The area of trying to saddle the blame for the miserable management of the recent war goes on and a large number of high muck-mucks continue to draw fat salaries from the government trying, so it is claimed, to place the responsibility. This thing might be kept up till dooms day and the public would be none the wiser as to who should be held down. The war was brought on by politicians, was managed by politicians and the only object they had in view was to do something by which they could win public favor. The whole thing was turned out a miserable farce and is fast getting to be a stench in the public nostrils.

REAR ADMIRAL DEWEY has contracted with Hong Kong wreckers for the recovery of the steel gunboats Isla de Luzon, Isla de Cuba and Don Juan de Austria, sunk in Manila bay or May 1. The government has already eight foreign-built men-o-war, three of them gunboats that were captured, and three cruisers and two torpedo boats that were bought. It may be well enough to raise sunken vessels, but it looks like a far better plan to add a little money to the cost of raising these that a few wrecks and build new ones outright.

THE War investigation Commission has established the fact that ample medical supplies were sent with the Santiago expedition, and also that they were not to be had when needed. As for the prevention of the landing of the supplies, the commission is still without full information. The truth of the matter is the politician leaders were so busy trying to do something which would help them politically, they had no time to look after the wants of the soldiers.

THE people of Louisville are fixing to give the Legion a royal reception when it returns from Porto Rico. A big parade has been arranged, the women folks will have a grand dinner and the big pot will be put in the little one. The Legion has done splendid service in the island and many compliments have been passed upon its work. Kentuckians are natural born soldiers and can always be counted upon.

THE local option fight at Somerset is as warm as the final resting place of those who refuse to turn from the error of their way. The two papers down there are in a war of words and lie awake nights studying up mean things to say of each other. Tut, tut, boys. Hush your racket. A thousand years hence you will never know there was a election in Somerset, and care less.

Thanksgiving is here and those who have been spared to enjoy another thanksgiving with friends and loved ones should be very thankful. The recent war has taken many hundreds and thousands of our brave Americans, yet we should be thankful that such things are no more. Our hearts go out in sympathy for the ones in camp and on the far away islands, who have not the pleasure of enjoying the day with their dear ones at home. He time honored festival of Thanksgiving, originated with the Pilgrim fathers at Plymouth. Although they had not the luxuries and blessings which we enjoy their hearts were bowed down in Thanksgiving for a free country and an open Bible.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 19.—Judge Hazelrigg handed down an opinion in the court of appeals affirming the decision of the Barren circuit court in two cases of Sid Baker against the commonwealth. Baker shot Frank Jackson at Glasgow last year and was tried and sentenced to the state penitentiary for five years. In the same difficulty he shot twice at John Jackson. SYCAMORE VALLEY.

Your Correspondent went into the county court room last Saturday and the Fiscal Court seemed to be at sea about how to issue $30,000 worth of Highway Bonds. We were reminded of the story of an Eastern King who had been saved from some great danger. To show his gratitude for deliverance he vowed he would give to the poor the weight of his biggest Elephant in silver. The great difficulty was a plan to weigh the enormous beast. The wise men of the city stroked their beards in vain. Finally a poor Sailor found a simple plan. Now we do not want to play the part of the sailor, but we want to suggest a plan that we think is feasible and will suit all. Garrard county is in the same position as a rich Parent would be who has property valued at four or five million dollars. The parent wants $30,000. Some of his sons have half a million to throw at Pinch and Middleborough birds. Plenty of his children have money yet to invest in "Guill-edge Paper," and are anxious to buy county bonds. Now the plan is simple, as follows:

Let the county court issue 300 one hundred dollar Bonds bearing 6 per cent interest payable semi-annually, redeemable in 30 years, same to be sold to no non-residents, but transferable from first purchaser. At the end of first 5 years, the county can commence to redeem said bond, which can be called in by lot by placing 300 numbers in a box that correspond with number of Bonds and drawing out 51.

The normal assets of the county is four million, the highest rate of tax for highways is 25 cents on the $100. This will raise $10,000 a year and to keep up roads $2,000 or interest on expenses and one thousand for sinking fund. Premiums on Bonds should first be used to get highways in the same condition that they were before the railroads came when we think will cost fully $10,000. We can raise a premium of $1,000 on the issue from capitalists of the county and if the Fiscal Court does not get that offered them, throw down the bars for Eastern capitalists who are sending their agents here to buy highway bonds.

We are trying to get our plan in the form of a popular loan, as France did just after the Frank O Prussian war, and as our Gov't did when it wanted $2,000,000.00. We listen for objections on account of high rate of interest. Money lends for it. It is the legal rate, and our own moneyed men and women have it and why not induce them to invest here? So on the 2nd day of January, or December or any day designated by the Fiscal Court the Bonds can be sold at public outcry, one at a time, with the privilege of 10. If the Bonds do not bring $10 premium take them down and advertise for sealed bids and where sealed bids are the same give preference to county capitalist every time. B. E. EVANS.

A Quaker Medicine.

There is a medicine whose proprietors do not claim to have discovered some hitherto unknown ingredient, or that it is a cure-all. This honest Medicine only claims to cure certain diseases, and that its ingredients are recognized by the most skilled physicians as being the best for Kidney and Bladder Diseases. It is Foley's Kidney Cure.

Clover seed has developed greater strength in the market. The yield is not large, has not ripened evenly, and bad weather has kept it back. Timothy is in small supply, and the quality is deficient.

In 1887 Mr. Thomas McIntosh, of Al lentown, Tenn., had an attack of dysentery which became chronic. "I was treated by the best physicians in East Tennessee without a cure," he says. "Finally I tried Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using about twelve bottles I was cured sound and well." For sale by R. E. McRoberts.

Providing feed and shelter for the colts during winter in order that they may continue to grow and be kept in thrifty, vigorous condition will give them when grown so much better size, form and quality than the range grown horse possesses that it will prove a profitable investment of labor, feed and money, says an exchange. But it has another and valuable advantage. The young stock that is cared for in this way becomes accustomed to the presence of man and to a certain amount of handling which will make the trouble of breaking them and the danger of injuring them while they are being broken much less than in the case of horses that have been raised entirely on the range.

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by R. E. McRoberts. 1m

IN MEMORIAM.

The Nazarene published at Los Angeles, Cal., prints the following:

Diep—Just as we are going to press we learn of the death of Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, mother of Mrs. Dr. Baldwin and Mrs. Judge Knott, both of this city, who died after a few days' illness, October 31st, 1898, in Washington, D. C., where she was visiting her son, Hon. Wm. P. Pierce. She left her home in this city about six weeks before her death, in her usual health, intending to spend about two months with her son. She was well known, and greatly beloved by a large circle of acquaintances in the city, where she has resided for the last fourteen years.

She was born in Monticello, Ky., Feb. 17th, 1816. She was a lady of rare culture and great refinement. She had a grace and dignity rarely seen—a character of great beauty and symmetry. Her sweet spirit and great personal attractions won hosts of friends wherever she came. She married Dr. J. S. Pierce when seventeen years of age, and spent most of her life at Lancaster, Ky. She was marvellously converted when 18 years of age, and maintained an humble, devout, spiritual life unto the end. Her remains were taken to Kentucky and laid beside her husband, according to her desire.

"When hearts whose truth was proven Like thine are laid in earth, There should a wreath be woven, To tell the world their worth."

The band gave an impromptu concert in the Court House Friday night. It was the first time as many as eight of the members had been together for six months or more. It is next to impossible to keep up a band in a small town. The strangest part of the trouble is the fact that those members who have nothing to do are the ones who stay away from practice the most.

Came to No Conclusion.

The Fiscal Court was in session Thursday and a great many prominent citizens were present to talk over the bond issue. Every man had a different idea, and the meeting reminded us very much of a women's sewing society. They came to no agreement whatever, and decided to wait until Saturday, when another confab will be held. Those interested, and every taxpayer should be, ought to be at this meeting. Several excellent plans have been proposed and the matter will be arranged in a satisfactory manner at the next meeting.

REFRAX, New Zealand, Nov. 23, '98. I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children. E. J. SCANTLEBURY. For sale by R. E. McRobert.

Sigma, in writing to Breeders' Gazette about brood sows, is inclined to give the preference to sows not over two years old if their pigs can have plenty of cow's milk, but if the pigs are to depend solely upon the sow for nutriment he thinks it better to have sows two years old or over because they give more milk. The pigs have only a certain time to get their growth and if they are stunted by an insufficient food supply the time is lost and they will never be as large nor as thrifty as they might be if well suckled. Mature sows generally have more pigs than young sows, but the pigs are no larger. On the other hand young sows take better care of their pigs, are lighter and seldom overlay or step on their young as old, heavy and clumsy sows do rather frequently.

When you ask for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve don't accept a counterfeit or imitation. There are more cases of Piles being cured by this, than all others combined. At Stormes' Drug Store. 1m Values of cattle, from day to day, fluctuate only fractionally with large or small receipts. Prime beefs in Chicago are worth 50 cents per 100 lbs. more than a year ago, or about $3.75 average; and the difference is quite as great in the good shipping and export class. Lately export trade has been affected unfavorably by the forced marketing of huffalo cattle on account of the drought. The Chicago shipments have been reduced by the direct shipments eastward of large numbers of fat cattle from distilleries.

Get a Start On Catarrh

And Save Endless Suffering Which Winter Brings.

The most offensive of all diseases becomes more intense as cold weather approaches. In fact, many who have been under treatment for so long, and during the summer feel little discomfort from the disease, are almost persuaded that they have been cured. But the first chilling blast of winter proves that the disease is still with them, and as the winter advances, their Catarrh grows in severity. Those who have felt only a slight touch of Catarrh may be sure that only cold weather is needed to develop the disease. What appears to be only a bad cold will prove more difficult to cure than formerly, and will return with more frequency, until before long the disease is fully developed.

"For years I suffered from a severe case of Catarrh, and took several kinds of medicines and used various local applications, but they had no effect whatever. I was induced to try S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) and after two months I was perfectly well and have never felt any effects of the disease since."
"B. P. McAllister,
Harrodsburg, Ky."

It is easy to see the importance of prompt treatment for Catarrh.

Those who get a start on the disease before the cold and disagreeable weather aggravates it, will find a cure less difficult. Catarrh increases in severity year by year, and becomes one of the most obstinate and deep-seated troubles. But it is equally important that the right remedy be given. All local applications of sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., can never cure Catarrh, for they do not reach the disease. Catarrh is in the blood, and only a blood remedy can cure it. Local applications only reach the irritated surface; the right remedy must be taken internally.

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is the right remedy for Catarrh. It cures the most obstinate cases by going direct to the cause of the trouble—the blood—and forcing out the disease. Those who have met with so much disappointment from local treatment should throw aside their sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures and take S. S. S. A cure will result. Send for free books. Address Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

YOUR LOCAL PAPER.

Have You Any Idea of What It Has Done For You?

1. It tells the people much which you would like to have known, but which modesty or necessity prevents you from telling.

If you and all your folks have been prosperous and fortunate in your affairs, the paper has boosted you all the way. If you have had misfortune, the paper asked for sympathy in your behalf.

This paper rejoiced when you rejoiced and wept when you wept. If you are a good and enterprising citizen, the paper will always be your friend and will back you in your enterprise and will help to find your business friends.

It tells you where to buy and where to sell. It tells of rogues to be avoided.

It tells you of current prices and prevents you from being cheated and swindled in 100 ways.

Finally, when you die, the paper will publish your obituary and will cover over your faults and will recite the story of your good deeds.

All these things the local editor will cause his paper to do, but no one else in the world will do them or can do them for you even for love or money. The outside paper is a stranger to your little world and is not at all interested in its improvement. Yet your local paper does all this free of cost to you, if you are willing to receive it that way. However, for your sake, we hope you are too generous to accept so many unrequited favors and that you are willing to reciprocate the same.

Help the editor. Be his friend, and he will prove his friendship to you. Subscribe for his paper and pay him for it regularly in advance and get your neighbors to do the same.

Send him the news or occasionally a watermelon or a peck of peaches. Invite him to your picnics and family dinners, so that he can eat a square meal occasionally.

Don't call the ticket you give him to the church concert a deadhead. He can't buy tickets from every body to every thing, but he will say kind words of your performances and thus lead others to buy your tickets.

If you have anything to buy or sell let the paper assist you to find customers. Advertising that really pays the printer benefits both advertisers and readers.

If you have any job printing to do, don't take it to an outside office, but give your local newspaper the first chance.

Give the editor a pointer occasionally, or write him sensible short articles and don't get mad if he fails to accept everything your way. When he does say a good thing, tell him so.

ADVICE ON LETTER-WRITING.

Girls Should Not Write Too Often and Shouldn't Express Upon Paper.

In writing to men, girls—especially girls past 25—don't say too much, and don't say it in many words. Men all have latent, latent, latent under their waists, and it all comes out when they get documents—over four pages long.

Don't use more than one "darling" per page, even to your fiancé. Gosh! you must, when you are together, but don't overdo it upon paper. Why should you, really?

If you hunger for warfare, write to your lover a sweet, loving postcard, directed to the office. Try it and wait.

No matter if he does want you to write every day—don't. A few days waiting for a letter from you will be wholesome moral discipline.

Men do not date upon reproaches sent by mail. If you have just caught an anger against any of the poor fellows, manifest it by a golden speech. Speech is but silver, and with reproaches are, in comparison, better metal.

Don't spend whole pages in eulogies; that is, eulogies. Don't say "I love you" in your correspondence. It only makes him feel that you are "in love" with him. That should be a secret. Gentlemen need no such reminders.

If you receive a written promise, show it to your best friend. It might thus be born, and make it her twin sister. Besides, it's silly.

A badly-spelled, repressed epistle is an unlovely witness against you. Merely a badly-spelled and written letter—when the man must read them all. Never expect a busy man to read a letter. He will not. He is essentially a disciple of brevity.

A crafty woman will face powder and shot rather than give a worldly woman a documentary evidence of his contempt. He judges all women to be traitors until they prove otherwise. Wise are those, O man.

Heavily-scented paper is vulgar, highly-tinted paper likewise, stamps (dilly-dilly) and a centric photograph—no to be dreamed. Pittsburgh Dispatch.

MAN-OF-WAR RULES.

A Miniature Monarchy on Ship Board with the Captain on the Bridge.

The "ship's company" of a man-of-war is like a limited monarchy, in which the captain is the monarch, his power limited only by the "Articles for the Government of the Navy of the United States," otherwise known as the articles of war, and the orders and regulations of the navy department. With this restriction his word is law; his mandates must be obeyed to the letter by all on board.

The commissioned officers are the nobles, the aristocracy. Between them and the crew there is a social gulf as wide as that between a British peer and a shopkeeper. There is none but official communication between the two elements; yet the officer has the nobleman's solicitude for his people, and the men have a corresponding respect, loyalty, and oftentimes affection for their officers.

The burghers are the warrant officers—the boatswain, gunner, sailmaker and carpenter—all worthy, important men, entitled to the prefix "Mr." before their names, when addressed by either superiors or inferiors.

The naval cadets or "midships" are the student class.

The crew represents the great body of the people. In it are found the representatives of nearly every trade. There are "yeoman" as they are technically termed, who are the clerks and storekeepers. The paymaster's yeomen keep record of and serve out the clothing and necessaries stores consumed by the ship's company. The ship's yeoman is the storekeeper for cordage, oil, canvas, hardware, and the like; the engineer's yeoman is the custodian for mechanic's tools, spare pieces of machinery, and general engineer's supplies. There are pharmacists, "bay men," nurses, electricians, carpenters, machinists, blacksmiths, boiler makers, painters, tailors, shipwriters, printers, bakers, and, naturally, the essentially nautical artisans, such as calkers, riggers and the like.—"Farmer's Round Table."

Delays are Dangerous.

Many of our friends, or people whom you know of have contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Honey and Tar, a safe, sure and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It is guaranteed.

CAUGHT BY THE CAMERA.

Photography Has Come to Be an Efficient Aid in the Detection of Criminals.

By both accident and intention, on numerous occasions, the art of the photographer has proved of immense utility in compassing the conviction of criminals.

An amateur photographer in Chicago cunningly concealed an automatic camera in the tapestry wall of his drawing-room, for the purpose of securing some reliable evidence as to the behavior of certain members of his household during his absence from home. One moonlight night a burglar broke into the house by way of the apartment mentioned. In so doing, he disturbed the spring which set the hidden machinery in motion, and left an excellent photograph of himself upon the faithful camera, which, when produced in court, secured his speedy conviction.

In another instance a man who murdered his mother was arrested by the operations of the omniscient camera. The dreadful deed was committed in a forest, where a student of photography was at work. A particularly pretty girl was so admired by the artist that he took three copies of the scene. One of these, when duly developed and enlarged, portrayed the details of the terrible tragedy, and by its aid the culprit was brought to justice.

During the jubilee celebrations a well-known photographer in London took a number of street scenes of historic interest. In one of these pictures, where a vast concourse of people were assembled near St. Paul's cathedral, the camera revealed a pickpocket in the very act of plying his peculiar profession. An old detective, who afterward inspected the photograph, said that he knew the man well. He was badly "wanted" for frauds committed on the continent, but the officers were not aware that he was in London. A week later he was arrested.

A snap shot at a summer crowd on the sands of Margate came out so clearly that the knight of the camera showed it with satisfaction to a number of his friends. Among these was a Scotland Yard officer who discovered among the mass of faces the familiar features of a man whom he had been hunting for months. Taking the next train to Margate, he hunted the benches until he sighted the fugitive and effected his arrest.

A Portsmouth photographer paid a professional visit to a large garden party at Southsea, where he took a group of fashionable visitors with salient success. During the process of development he observed that in the holly hedge behind the group a rather repulsive human face appeared. A fortnight later a lady purchased one of these photographs made the same singular discovery, and avowed that the face resembled the face of that of a man who had made a futile attempt to rob her house a few weeks prior to the party.

The matter being mentioned to the police, the district was scoured, and the man—who was an old criminal—was arrested and imprisoned.

An Irish housebreaker in Belfast, evidently ignorant concerning the character of the camera, found his way one night into a photographer's studio, on burglarious thought intent, when a large photographic apparatus attracted his attention. More by accident than design, the camera had been left ready for use, and the artless manipulation of the machinery by the curious thief actually produced a picture of himself, which was afterward employed to bring about his conviction.—Chicago Evening News.
